Alan Anderson, C Ht

A successful businessman and entrepreneur Alan Anderson has created and sold several businesses in his thirty plus years in business. Trained as a designer in Florence, Italy, Alan is a bit of a renaissance man. He speaks Italian as well as his native English and is an artist, designer, writer and engaging speaker. He is also well known amongst his circle for his cooking, as he loves to create and enjoy good food with friends in his western Washington home.

Alan has been involved with transformational education since the 1980's, writing and presenting seminars, working with small groups and large. He is active as a co-leader of a transformational group in the Seattle area. He has spoken before business, church and trade association groups on topics such as effective communication, sales techniques and prosperity awareness. He truly is a person who believes in following his heart and interests over the rainbow.

His interest in hypnosis began when he ordered a book on the topic from the back of a comic book as a boy, and he was soon enthusiastically trying it out on family and friends. Alan is a Registered Clinical Hypnotherapist and is a Licensed Practitioner of Neuro-Linguistic Programming, NLP[™] and a member of The Society of Neuro-Linguistic Programming, NLP[™] as well as the National Guild of Hypnotists, Washington Chapter.

Alan is currently owner and operator of NLPSeminarSpeakers.com and is producing, training, and promoting seminars on Health and Wellness, Communications and Prosperity.
